The game board is a large grid with a central blue area containing illustrations of two palm trees, a parrot, and a monkey. The grid is bordered by colored squares: pink on the top and right, yellow on the bottom, and blue on the left. A green snake is on the left, and a monkey is on the bottom right. A parrot is in the center. The central blue area contains various Danish letters in circles, arranged in a path that starts from the snake and ends at the monkey. The letters are: t, j, v, i, æ, d, y, n, u, g, r, z, h, c, s, x, m, w, e, a, q, å, o, b, ø, f, l, p, k. The letters are color-coded: red for vowels (æ, ø, æ, u, e, a, å, o) and blue for consonants (t, j, v, i, d, y, n, g, r, z, h, c, s, x, m, w, b, f, l, p, k).
